Levenik Turner, a 26-year-old from New Hanover County, was skiing at Mount Chacarron with two other men around 7:00 p.m. on New Year's Eve when snow suddenly fell from the mountain. It covered all three of them. "All of a sudden it came in from the side and I was underneath it," Turner said. "I knew that I wasn't going to live." Despite its early start and the fact that this was their first time back to the mountain, Turner said they all made it safely to the cabin. "We were all being over cautious. I wasn't being over cautious," said Turner. "I had my toboggan and I just had to hold on and hope for the best." He said the incident reminded him that safety should always be a priority when taking on a new activity. "It's something that we have to remember and think before we get out there.
